

Media, Technology and Society (M.Sc.)*Master of Science*Requirements for admission***

The standard period of study is 3 semesters for students who have completed studies with at least 210 CP and 4 semesters for students who have completed studies with at least 180 CP. The 3-semester course can only be started in the summer semester. The 4-semester programme can only be taken up in the winter semester. It includes a practical semester of 30 CP, which is completed in the 1st semester. Alternatively, a semester abroad can be completed in a relevant course of studies comprising 30 CP.

1st Semester***

Internship
30 CP

1st/2nd Semester***

Laboratory A
10 CP

2nd/3rd Semester***

Laboratory B
10 CP

3rd/4th Semester***

Master Thesis
incl. Colloquium
30 CP

Perspectives

The Master's degree

gives graduates a wide range of career opportunities in the fields of editing and consulting where media, technology and society interact:

- Media and communication: e.g. in publishing houses and radio stations, in communication departments and agencies
- Technology: in companies that produce and operate digital media and applications. In addition, in the field of science and knowledge management
- Society: in NGOs, foundations and other charitable institutions, as well as in segments such as lifelong learning.

The Master's degree also qualifies graduates for academic work and doctoral studies as well as careers in higher academic public service.

Technology
10 CP

Society
10 CP

Elective I:
Topics A
5 CP

Elective III:
Topics B
5 CP

Elective II:
Methods and Procedures
5 CP

Elective VI:
Application
5 CP

CP: The sizes of the modules correspond to an average study and learn effort. For successfully completed modules, credit points are awarded – as a general rule 60 CP per year.

Colour legend: ■■■ standard modules ■ thesis work ■ industrial placement ■ mandatory electives, specialization ■ interdisciplinary qualification